NARRATIVE:

Andrew Lopez has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 20. His convictions include involuntary manslaughter, multiple cases of possession of a firearm by a felon, firearm access violation, vehicle theft, petty theft, receiving stolen property, several cases of possession of narcotic controlled substances, possession of contraband in jail, false identification to peace officer, driving under the influence of alcohol, disturbing the peace and failing to report. He has served multiple state prison terms the longest being a four year sentence for involuntary manslaughter. Lopez was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on January 10, 2012. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in March 2015 after he absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Lopez qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense for involuntary manslaughter is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. His criminal history, gang association and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted. If you know his whereabouts please contact...
